

Handwritten text on a vertical strip of paper, likely a label or address, written in cursive.

Main body of handwritten Japanese text in cursive (sōsho), arranged in vertical columns from right to left. The text includes names and dates, such as '横濱有月十四日'.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely representing a name or address in a non-Latin alphabet. The text is written on a piece of aged, yellowish paper with some staining and a vertical crease. The characters are dense and difficult to decipher without specific linguistic knowledge.
